The proposed rules as finally modified by Government are approved and appended hereto.

Development Departments.

RULES FOR THE GRANT OF TAKAVI LOANS FOR AGRICULTURAL AND INDUSTRIAL PURPOSES THROUGH CO-OPERATIVE SOCIETIES.

1. These rules may be called the Co-operative Societies' Takavi Loans Rules, 1929.

2. They shall apply to loans granted to members of Co-operative Societies with unlimited liability registered under the Mysore Co-operative Societies Regulation No. VII of 1918.

3. No member of an Agricultural or Industrial Co-operative Society with unlimited liability shall be granted a loan under these rules unless the consent of the Managing Committee of the society of which he is a member has been obtained in writing and the society stands as surety for the loan.

4. The Registrar shall, from time to time, select the societies that may undertake this work and intimate the names of the selected societies to the authorities authorised to sanction loans for Agricultural and Industrial purposes.

5. The society shall, from time to time, prepare a list of members wishing to obtain loans under these rules for whom it is willing to stand as surety, and shall submit such list in the attached form to the Amildar of the Taluk, or the Deputy Commissioner or other authority competent to sanction loans for disposal, through the Inspector of Co-operative Societies of the Circle in which the society is situated, provided that—

(i) The society shall not stand as surety for any member for any amount exceeding Rs. 200.

(ii) The society shall not stand as surety for any loan repayable in instalments extending over more than five years.

(iii) The total amount of loans to be granted for all purposes shall not exceed Rs. 2,000 per society.

(iv) The society has been included in the list of societies approved by the Registrar for undertaking this work.

(v) The society undertakes to see that the loan is used by the member for the purpose for which it is taken and it may obtain a suitable agreement from the borrower to enable it to prevent the utilisation of the loan for other purposes.

(vi) Loans may be advanced either on mortgage or personal security. In the latter case the Managing Committee of the society shall insist on the borrower producing one surety to be approved by the society in addition to the society.

(vii) The society may charge the borrower such commission not exceeding one per cent for its services over and above the usual interest payable to Government on the loan as may be determined at a General Meeting of the society and approved by the Registrar.

Note.—In special circumstances, and on the resolution of the general body of the members passed at a general meeting the Registrar may relax the restrictions imposed in clauses (i) and (iii).

6. Sanction of Loan.—On receipt of such consolidated application from the society through the Inspector of Co-operative Societies of the Circle, the authority competent to sanction the loan shall, if the society is included in the list of societies approved by the Registrar for undertaking this work, and if it complies with the conditions described in rule 5 proceed to dispose of the loan application in the usual manner and communicate its orders to the society concerned.

7. Execution of Bonds.—When a loan has been sanctioned under Rule 6, the whole amount shall be paid to a duly authorised representative of the society who shall also be supplied with forms of bonds. The society will be responsible for the execution of the bonds in favour of Government under the Land Revenue Rules, the distribution of the money among the applicants and the return of the bonds duly executed within 10 days to the Taluk Office. A copy of the resolution of the Managing Committee authorising one of the members of the society by name to sign on behalf of the society as surety shall be attached by the society to every bond so signed by its representative.

8. Recovery of Loans.—The authority sanctioning the loan shall send each year to the society a list showing the names of members from whom recoveries are to be made under these rules in that year, the amounts of instalments due (principal and interest separately) and the due dates for repayment. The society shall be responsible for collecting these instalments and remitting them to the Taluk Treasury within one month after the respective due dates. If however, the society recommends the suspension of any instalment on account of exceptional circumstances, the Amildar shall investigate the facts of the case and submit his report to the Sub-Divisional Officer, through the Registrar. The decision of the Sub-Divisional Officer is final and if he grants the suspension of the instalment that instalment and all subsequent instalments shall be postponed by one instalment period. In other cases, where the society reports that it has been unable to recover the whole or part of an instalment the authority sanctioning the loan shall forthwith recover the amount from the borrower under the provisions of the Land Improvement Loans Regulation or the Land Revenue Code. In the event of a deficit remaining thereafter, the authority sanctioning the loan shall report the facts of the case through the Deputy Commissioner to the Registrar who shall take such further steps under section 45 of the Mysore Co-operative Societies Regulation No. VII of 1918 to require the society to make good the deficit as may seem to him necessary unless the case is considered by the authority sanctioning the loan to be a fit one for suspending or remitting the demand.

9. Save as provided in these rules conditions incidental to loans under the Mysore Land Improvement Loans Regulation or under section 194 of the Mysore Land Revenue Code or under the Rules of 2nd September 1913 (G.
